All the houses in town were rearrows during the new year for firerens and annumition.

An impression is prevailing in town that the enemy's statick on General Terry's front is but a feint, to cover a surprise movement in some other direction.

At h if pact eight o'clock the people of the town were startled by side sound and reverbartions incident to what may be terried a terrife explosion. It was caused by the blowing op of the bridge over the Nansemond river. The explosion, though so forethly in its character, did not fully accomplish its work, and next to powder we had to resort to the am. The bridge is now a total week, and if the enemy ever expected to make a dash to and own it in the enemy ever expected to make a dash to and own it in the enemy ever expected to make a dash to and own it, and then get time for the same power and in the complex of the same and the completely foiled.

And all this for the make of enjoying the luxury of being a major general, with a fair prospect of having your manne wrong in the newspapers.

The Connections Election—Destitution of the Rebels, &c.

The Richmend Whig of the lith inst. has been received. The education are unimportant, with the exception of one in relation to the Councettent elections. The de eat of Seymour is regarded as the death blow to all hopes of peace, and the people are orged to nerve themselves for a prologation of the terrible struggle. Considerable attention is real to the depreciations committed by troops about the city, and the editorial concerning flood's division throws light upon the destitution in Richmond and the bread riot. The people are evidently reduced to the last extremity.

EXECUTION AT CASP LEE.

The execution of A. G. Webster, who was sentenced to death by court martial for violation of his parels of homer, took pince yesterday at Camp Lee, near this city the prisoner held a commission under the boges Pierpont government, and when first captured was released upon parole, but again took uparms against the toofeferate States and was a second time taken. For this military ofsnee he was condemned to suffer death by hanging. He was accommanded from the prison to the camp vester by by his spiritual advisor, Rev. Fr. Brown, of the Presbyterion church and by several military officials. The guard was composed of Waron's company of cavalry. The prisoner was dressed in the uni orm of a federal officer. He was extremoly weak from an injury received when he attempted to make his secupe on a recont occasion, b totherwise seemed to maintain Seansiderable fortifude. On arriving at the ground a half hour was devoted to religious exercise in the carriage, and the prisoner asked the officer in command to extend his time until three officek, the tastest momant allowed by the terms of his sentence, but it was not deruned expedient to grant the request. He was not deruned expedient to grant the request. He was existed up the steps of the gallows and seated over the trap, and being asked if he had anything to say, declined to make any remarks. He gave the sign at himself, by dropping a hat from his hand, and at twenty three minutes before one o'clock was launched lito eterity. His death was almost instantaneous. It is about a year since a Yankee sty of the same name was executed by hanging on the same spot.

FONCHATOCLA.

We have learned that ou Wednesday about 1 500 Yankees made an incursion upon Ponchatoula, which was guarded by only 150 cavalry, and so sudden was their iderent that our men were obliged to run without their norses. They retreated about twenty miles, telegraphing at an intermediate station for reinforcements, which came the next day in the form of 1,200 of our Indian troops and ren the Yankees beek, encamping a considerable distance beyond Ponchatoula. The Yankees set fire to the depot and several houses, which were extinguished; but they secceeded in burning all the achooners in which a set of traitors have been trading to New Orleans with the contivance of some of our officers.

[Ponchatoula, La, is a station village on the New Orleans and Jackson Raitroad, and is distant about forty-eight miles from the former city.—Eo. Harato.]

Mr. Ozans appeared as counsel to the parties connected with the bill as it named the Senate.

It is understood that the committee will report the bill to morrow, with three or four amountments.

The question of permitting soldiers to vote was considered a short time in the Committee of the Whole, progress reported, and the bill made the special order for Wednesday night.

The Senate Grinding Committee is priving to be a different committee than was expected when asponited. As a sample of their work they took up the bill giving the Supervisors of New York a galaxy of two thousand dollars, with soveral members of that board holding legrative offices besides, strick out a provision preventing them from holding any other office and ordered it to a third reading. Preliminary Preparations for Lagislative Party Platforms-The Copperheads to be Repudiated by the Democracy-Backing Down of the Republicans-Dummy Engines-Soldiers' Home and Soldiers' Rest, &c., &c. ALBANY, APPH 14, 1863

As the session draws near its close political manager rom all sections of the State, and of all parties, an making their appearance, no doubt for the purpose of having a finger in the party platforms and legislative addresses that are to be issued by both parties at the close of the session. Preparations are being made for the enunctation of the party creeds for the coming year by both par-ties. What the real wording of their platform will be I do not now pretend to give. But, as far as the democratic party now pretend to give. that, as far as the democratic party is ceneeraed, enough has transpired to satisfy any person that it will be one that will stract a great deal of attention, and one in which Vermado Wood and his semi-secession cooperhead tribe will find no crumb of comfort. This reminds me that Wood has been sending circulars into every county of the State for the purpose of getting up a state mass meeting to endor a the platform outcomes up where the platform outcomes and that the responses to his circulars are few and far between. The platform of the rejublican party is somewhat move difficult to define. The rejublicans of the Assembly, who at first appeared to be in favor of the most extreme measures and all the issue, and to all appearance were nearly unantmous in favor of the emancipation prockamation, have wheeled about and a few days since the question of approving that measure was sent to linguate without even enough republicans to be found in the Assembly to call the year and nays. While this is the position of matters in the Assembly, esverai of the leading Senators on that side of the House are will in favor of all inscaures that were ever thought of by the most inflatance abolitionists. Take them in a light caucus, and there is notifing what kind of a hybrid platform will be brought forth.
